was born in 1964 in Nice (Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur) in a family where my mother is a painter.

Very early on I discover myself as an artist, painted on canvas, I am passionate about digital art and pursue studies in graphic arts in Marseille (France).

I practice a job in the tourist field that allows me to highlight my qualities as a graphic designer.

During my many travels in Italy, I am amazed at the splendor of Roman and Florentine pictorial and architectural works. The mosaic fascinates me and I continue to detail the masterpieces of accomplished works.

And that is precisely what will lead me unconsciously to sketch fragmented faces with an aspect imitating the mosaic.

This work leads me little by little towards a more and more contemporary trend and lets appear a mystical atmosphere.

The history of ancient icons is likely to mingle with those of our time. Fashion and rock come back on stage.

The use of acrylic and aerosol reinforces this bridge between the old world and the new.

It is an emotional ballet now that inspires me and sends me back to the thoughts in which these faces are plunged, and the dreams to which they aspire.

The message is filled with hope and the colors that are present in my paintings suggests it.

I just participated in the 14th contemporary art fair «Le SM'ART AIX» in Aix en Provence, which took place from May 16 to 20, 2019.
